Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1 and 4-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b,b,e) as being clearly anticipated by Columbus (USP 4,091,802), Hsei (USP 5,277,873) or Lappe et al. (USP 6,342,183) respectively.

The cited prior art teach test chambers with a fill level and overflow chambers to accommodate excess fluids. There are multiple sealing means to isolate the sample from the excess fluid and the ambient environment. There are means to seal the chamber by placing a “plug” over the opening that have been read on the claimed “stopper”.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of group I in the reply filed on 4/29/04 is acknowledged. Applicants have not put forth any arguments to traverse the restriction requirement.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.
